

Greetings from Commissioner Vassiliou to the 3rd International Cancer Control Congress

I would like to congratulate you on the organisation of the 3rd International Cancer Control Congress which offers a valuable opportunity for dialogue and exchange of knowledge and best practice amongst a wide variety of stakeholders across numerous countries. This excellent initiative has the full support of the European Commission which shares the ICCC vision of the importance of bringing together a broad range of relevant actors in order to more efficiently combat cancer and lessen its burden, both for individuals and for society.
